A BIG DISCRIMINATION AGAINST KURDS

As we know , Kurds are native inhabitants of Middle East , who are living there for thousands of years continuously and consistently . According to rough statistics , the number of Kurds at their historical homeland(Kurdistan) , amounts to approximately fifty million (including some one million diasporas , dispersed all over the world) .

According to above approximate estimation of their population number , we can declare they are among the biggest nations of the world , who do not enjoy their own sovereignty and independent state; consequently against their national aspirations , they are distributed mainly among five countries.

So, judging on common sense and human conscience basis , we realize that they suffer an enormous political discrimination , which has resulted and still continues to result in heterogeneous fatal catastrophes and numerous annihilations , for example the chemical bombardment of Halabja , which on the scale of vast general devastation , sometimes has been considered as FIRST HEROSHIMA or the worst ferocious man made catastrophe of recent times , over the globe .

Now on the basis of above and following undeniable facts , I reiterate that a big and unexpected discrimination is implemented against Kurds . For example , at the same region of the world , there are more than 20 independent ARAB countries , some of them only possess a population of two million people , but Kurds with an approximate total population of fifty million , do not have a single independent country . On this basis , if UN is a pragmatist and real United Nations and advocates the right of nations , shall address this critical issue seriously and provide a practical solution to treat this tyrannical discrimination along with the cooperation of other respective international institutions and organizations etc .
